A little planning goes a long way

Helpful reminders for cooking for one - without overcomplicating your week.

01 / COOL & REFRIGERATE

Refrigerate cooked food promptly, within 2 hours. Use shallow, covered containers and keep your fridge at 4°C / 40°F or below.

02 / GIVE RICE EXTRA CARE

Cool cooked rice quickly, ideally within 1 hour. Refrigerate and eat within 24 hours, or freeze promptly. Reheat rice only once, until steaming hot.

03 / SAVE IT FOR LATER

Most cooked leftovers keep for 3-4 days in the fridge if stored safely. Freeze portions you will not use in time. Label containers with the dish and date.

04 / REHEAT THOROUGHLY

Heat leftovers until piping hot throughout (74°C / 165°F). Check package directions for storing and using partly opened ingredients.

05 / COOKING FOR MORE?

Multiply ingredient amounts by the number of people you are cooking for, including your shopping list. Remember: selected dinners already make an extra lunch portion.
